Three Counties Remonstrate
Against More Tobacco
Being Delivered.

URGENT APPEAL OF OFFICIALS

A crisis was reached by the tobacco organization known as the Equity Home Warehouse company, a branch of the American Society of Equity, Thursday, when certain branches of this society filed remonstrances with the Owensboro organization as to the sale and delivery of the pooled crop. When the sale, which was only tentative, was made ten days ago, it did not include all of the weed pooled with this organization. In fact the sales committee could not dispose of a large portion of the tobacco at all. Portions of Ohio, McLean and Hancock, as well as certain districts in Davless county, were not included in the sale.

Under the constitution and by-laws of the American Society of Equity, a part of a crop of any product that has been pooled cannot be sold until all has been sold. At present it looks like no final sale has been made, nor can be made until the entire pledged crop is disposed of. It is known that the sales committee cannot find a buyer for a large portion of the pool.

It was found necessary by the sales committee to take some action on the matter, and Thursday the officers of the association and members of the sales committee drafted the following resolutions, issued to the growers in the form of a statement:

Statement in Full.
To the farmers who pooled their tobacco with the Home Warehouse company and the American Society of Equity:

Inasmuch as we have made an honest endeavor to take care of our members who have tobacco in the high water, and in doing this have been taken advantage of by those who had no need in bringing their tobacco to the market, and to such an extent that there has been a remonstrance filed against you by the poolers of Hancock, McLean and Ohio counties, and in view of this remonstrance, and the fact that some of our members have been notified to deliver their tobacco, it becomes necessary for us to issue this statement.

First, we will remind you that all the tobacco in the pool is not sold, and that it is, thoroughly understood that no deliveries are to be made until all the tobacco is placed, and when tobacco is rushed to the market ahead of its turn, the owner is placing himself in the attitude of the "dumper," and the finger of scorn is being pointed at him. Now, in view of all these facts, we want to ask our people to withhold deliveries until Monday, February 10, or until you are notified to begin delivering.

In rushing the market as you have been doing, you are not only sacrificing principle for present gain, but you are "butchering" the farmers' organization. You are also taking advantage of the other counties at the same time, and it will cost you dearly in the future. You cannot expect them to stay with you unless you stick with them. They have all stood man to man with you in this fight, and their battle is not yet won, but as soon as your tobacco is placed, you desert your best friends and put more tobacco on the market than the trade can handle.

Now we want to appeal to you: men and others, and in the name of all that is good and right; in the name of organization; in the name of your neighbor, your father and your God, to stop delivering tobacco until notice is served on you. We also appeal to the reading and thinking people in and out of this organization, to talk this matter over with your neighbors and assist us in securing a square deal for everyone interested in this pool.

(Signed) PRICE BAKER, Pres.
L. N. ROBERTSON, Sec'y.
Equity Home Warehouse Company.

INCOME TAX RATIFIED— CONSTITUTION AMENDED

Washington, Feb. 3.—An income tax is now one of the provisions of the Constitution of the United States.

Wyoming's ratification to-day of the income tax amendment—the sixteenth change in the Constitution and the first since the reconstruction—completed a list of thirty-six States, three-fourths of the Union, which have approved the provision.

Congress now will enact a law to levy the tax, and it probably will become effective during the extraordinary session to be called by President-elect Wilson in March. The tax itself, its provisions and its limitations, are all left to Congress.

THE HENDERSON COURT AIDS FLOOD VICTIMS

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 1.—Henderson county Fiscal Court met here to-day in impromptu session and appropriated $150 to be used in relieving the flood sufferers in the parts of this county affected by the Green river flood.

Mayor Thompson and those assisting him on the committee, through the medium of Capt. Wartmann's boat at Spottsville, have distributed a large consignment of rations, provisions and medicines. This was purchased with the Red Cross fund sent here by Congressman Stanley. The Elks' committee together with the committee in charge of the Stanley Red Cross fund, have matters well in hand.

Thus far something like $350 are receiving assistance, apportioned in the following sections of the county: Walnut bottom, Scottsville section, Reeds, near Bluff City and near Henderson. Capt. Wartmann, who is donating the services of crew and boat at Spottsville, made a trip to-day and supplied ninety people who were in need of food. He also found eight destitute families near Bluff City.

Important to Phonograph Owners.

As Mr. Edison has permitted all dealers to make a reduction on 2 and 4 minute records for an indefinite period, I will reduce the 2's to 21c and the 4's to 31c. You had better hurry and lay in a supply, as you may never have this chance again. The old price was 35c for 2's and 50c for 4's. I have a big stock to pick from.

TERROR REIGNS IN OLD ENGLAND

Over the Militant Suffrage Movement.

ROYAL JEWEL CASES BROKEN

Parliament Leaders Are Panic Stricken and Afraid
To Leave Home.

TORCH FEARED BY OFFICIALS

London, Feb. 1.—Suffragists to-day smashed with stones the glass cover of one of the cases in the jewel room of the Tower of London, where the crown jewels are kept. They were arrested and sent to Bow Street. The attack is in line with the militants' expressed purpose to attack all Government property.

Leaders in Parliament, panic-stricken because of the militant methods of the suffragists, seldom venture into the streets now without body guards. Their houses are also protected night and day by specially assigned police, who have been warned to prevent incendiary fires or other damage.

Sir Edward Grey has temporarily abandoned his official residence and now sleeps in Sloane Gardens.

Lloyd George has given up his favorite amusement of appearing in public restaurants and intends to eat his meals in the House of Commons' dining room.

Alarmed by rumors that his child would be kidnapped, Winston Churchill has four policemen constantly on guard outside his house. He is not lacking in personal courage, but his wife has urged authorities to take ample precaution against the suffragists. The Churchill baby is invariably followed by plain clothes men from Scotland Yard when the nurse takes the child out for an airing.

Prime Minister Asquith objects strongly to having a bodyguard, but the police captain is not at all satisfied with the promises of the suffragists to respect human life. He has pointed out that some of the younger and more ardent suffragists have openly threatened to throw vitriol, which the police consider almost as serious as murder. Incendiary fires are most feared by the authorities. They firmly believe attempts will be made to burn the principal government buildings. The force of night police in the neighborhood of Westminster consequently has been doubled.

"The price paid for any great chapter of history in any country," said Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, suffragette leader, "is enormous and sometimes costs human lives. The other side has not paid with any lives. I have, for my sister died three days after her release from Bristol prison. Physicians said death was due to the harsh treatment she received while a prisoner. We've lost many others, too, who died as a result of prison treatment."

F. M. Porter Dead.

Mr. Francis Marion Porter died at his residence in Hartford last Thursday night at 7:30 after a brief illness of pneumonia. After funeral services conducted by Rev. W. B. Wright at the residence at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, his remains were interred in Oakwood cemetery. Mr. Porter, who was one of Ohio county's best citizens, lacked 27 days of being 67 years old. The deceased was married to Mary E. Porter in August, 1868, and to their union were born five sons: J. L. Porter and I. C. Porter, Hartford, Route 4; Ola Porter, Beaver Dam, and Wm. Porter and Almer Porter, McHenry, and two daughters, Mrs. T. H. Chinn, Beaver Dam, and Mrs. Will Howell, Island, Ky. The widow, the seven children and several grandchildren survive. It can be truly said that a good citizen has been called to his final rest.

A Correction.

The Herald, in reporting the minutes of the Fiscal Court in its issue of January 15th, made an error in stating that there was a poll tax of $1.50 levied for school purposes. It should have read $1.00 instead. The $1.50 poll tax is for county purposes. In other words, the poll tax for county purposes was increased 50c on each male citizen in the county 21 years of age and over.

MUHLBERG EQUITY MEMBERS TAKE OFFER

Greenville, Ky., Feb. 3.—The Muhlenberg county branch of the American Society of Equity met here to-day and ratified the sale of the tobacco held by the society. The tobacco was sold to John H. Hoge, of Paducah, at prices ranging from $5 to $9 for leaf and fugs, and $3 for trash. There are about 2,200,000 pounds in the pool which was sold by the action of the farmers to-day. The price is about $1 lower than that realized last year, and President M. W. Carver and others of the society say that the action of the new Green River District of Owensboro in selling 13,000,000 pounds at these figures about five weeks ago, is responsible for the loss to the Muhlenberg growers. There is an organization at Paducah, in this county, that holds 600,000 pounds of tobacco that has not been sold.

Mr. Hoge will begin receiving tobacco here Wednesday and at South Carrollton later in the week. Business here has been considerably retarded on account of the failure of the farmers to sell, and great satisfaction is felt now that the deal has been closed.

Jno. B. Wilson For County Judge.

Judge Jno. B. Wilson, of Hartford, announces this week as a candidate for the nomination for the office of County Judge of Ohio county, subject to the action of the Democrats at the general primary, August 2, 1913.

Judge Wilson is the son of Mr. Levy M. Wilson, of near Prentiss, this county, and has eight brothers and a brother-in-law, all of whom, along with himself, are staunch Democrats.

He was elected and served the county very acceptably as Surveyor from 1888 to 1894, studied law and was admitted to the Hartford bar in the year 1894, since which time he has been actively engaged in the practice of his profession. During six years of this time, however, he has served as Police Judge of the town of Hartford, to the satisfaction of all.

Mr. Wilson is quite well and favorably known throughout the entire county and we bespeak for him a large following. If nominated and elected, he will make a good County Judge.

WOULD REFUSE TO AID DISTRICT

Washington is Tax Dodge-ers' Heaven,

SAYS CONGRESSMAN JOHNSON

Who, With Proof, Denounces
Unequal Taxation in the National Capital.

GETS REPLY FROM "UNCLE JOE"

Washington, Feb. 1.—Representative Ben Johnson, chairman of the House Committee on the District of Columbia, to-day told the citizens of Washington exactly what he thought of them for insisting that the Federal Government pay half the municipal expenses. The District of Columbia Appropriation Bill was under consideration in the House, and the Kentuckian, who has made a deep study of affairs in the National Capital, denounced the unequal system of taxation here, announced his intention of reporting from the committee an inheritance tax for the city as soon as possible, and aroused the interest of members from all over the country by telling them how much each State contributed to the support of the District of Columbia during the last fiscal year.

Mr. Johnson created a sensation when he said:

"Recently one of the commissioners of the District of Columbia told me that one of the richest and most powerful men in Washington said to him that he had made it his policy to have influential members of the House and Senate purchase real estate in the District in order that their assistance might be had toward keeping down taxes and securing improvements."

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, who had been finding fault with Mr. Johnson's plan to have the District pay its own expenses, quickly rejoined:

"I have never owned a foot of ground in the District of Columbia."

Mr. Johnson congratulated him.

"Washington is the heaven of tax dodgers," said Mr. Johnson. "Here the rich can live and die more cheaply than anywhere else on earth."

Mr. Johnson remarked that, although he did not believe members of Congress in large numbers were investing in real estate in Washington, or had ever done so, still the people of the District undoubtedly did owe much to certain members of the House and Senate who had done so in the past. He said the remark made by the unnamed business man and repeated to him by one of the commissioners, was typical of the attitude of prominent citizens of the National Capital.

Mr. Johnson produced a table showing how much money the various States, on the basis of population, contributed last year to the support of the District Government. Congress appropriated approximately $11,000,000 for the District Government, of which between five and six millions of dollars came from the Federal treasury and the rest from the revenue of the district. He referred to the money from the national coffers as a "subsidy" paid to the District.

Kentucky contributed $154,301; he explained, and Indiana $181,993; New York, $614,103; Pennsylvania, $516,498; Ohio, $321,223; Tennessee, $47,218; and West Virginia, $82,282, with other States in proportion.

Here is the way Kentucky's contribution is divided, according to the chairman of the District Committee:

Schools, $29,811; streets, sewer and water mains, $15,096; police $12,700; improvements and repairs, $28,751; salaries and health, $10,342; interest on sinking fund, $12,788; lighting, $5,788; fire department, $8,308; charities and correction, $17,373; and miscellaneous $3,995.

Mr. Johnson said when Congress first undertook to pay half the expenses of the city of Washington it embraced only 6,000 acres, mostly swamps and forest, and that now it was paying half the expenses of a community of sixty-nine and three-quarters square miles, with the swamps and forests turned into valuable real estate, from which citizens of the District of Columbia were getting rich. It is time the system was changed, he urged.

Her remains were interred in the Taylor Mines burying grounds on the evening of the first.

Holbrook, of the Buford precinct, one of Ohio county's best known and most substantial citizens, announces his candidacy this week for Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democrats at the general primary election, August 2, 1913. Mr. Holbrook is an old-line Democrat of well known party service and is popular throughout the county. He is splendidly qualified for the office which he seeks and would make an excellent Sheriff. He solicits the votes of Democrats all over the county, promising them a thorough canvass if nominated and good official work if elected.

RAG BABIES AND THE CORN CROP

And How the "Babies" Are Constructed.

GERMINATION THE MAIN TEST

Improved Methods of Corn Raising Are Certainly Working Wonders.

VALUABLE TO CORN GROWERS

The farmers of this country are losing more than half a billion dollars on their corn crops every year. Maybe they don't know it, but they are. And the worst of it is that this enormous loss could be prevented in such a simple and easy way that to follow it seems like child's play.

"What's the matter?" the farmers exclaim.

The answer is simple: "You don't test your seed." "Why, man alive," the farmer exclaims, "don't you know that any farmer can tell good seed corn when he sees it? Or if he can't tell by the way it looks, he can by cracking it with his teeth or cutting it open with a jack knife."

It is evident that something has got to be done to get these fellows out of the rut. Agricultural teachings, so far, have not had the desired effect. They have been too much along the lines of the old-fashioned camp meeting revival. A small percentage of the farmers have been brought to the mourner's bench, so to speak, but the majority of them have backslid, as converts have ever done.

Realizing that old-fashioned methods must be supplanted by something new, the Crop Improvement Committee of the Council of Grain Exchanges, who as a body and as individuals are as much interested in the success or failure of the corn crop as the farmer himself, set about to devise ways and means for cracking the shell of the man who thinks he knows it all because he has "always done it that way." Finally they hit it.

"Eureka!" they cried. "We'll teach the men through the boys—the father through the son. We'll establish agricultural kindergartens in the rural schools, and when the fathers and uncles and big brothers see what the children know about testing seed corn, we'll land them."

This is having its effect. The farmers are coming to realize the value and practicability of the methods advocated by the Crop Improvement Committee, and while some of them profess to scoff at these methods, they are secretly putting them into practice.

The method employed in the agricultural kindergartens is the "rag baby test." The "rag baby" bears no relation to little Mary's home-made doll. It is merely a simple little device for testing seed corn, or any other kind of grain, and its mysteries can be solved by any boy or girl in a few minutes.

The "rag baby test" is conducted in the following manner: A piece of heavy sheeting about 15 inches wide and four or five feet long is marked off into a dozen or more spaces about three inches square, running through the center of the strip. The squares are numbered, say from one to twelve. An equal number of ears of corn are selected for the test and are numbered to correspond with the squares on the cloth. The cloth is then thoroughly moistened and spread out in front of the ears to be tested. Five or six kernels are taken from ear number one and placed in square number one, and so on until all the squares have been filled. Then the sides of the cloth are folded over so the edges will overlap in the center and the strip rolled up, beginning at either end. If the cloth is well moistened, the kernels will not be displaced. After the cloth is rolled up, a string or a rubber band is tied loosely around each end, and the "rag baby" is finished. It is not necessary to limit the number of squares to twelve. From twenty to thirty ears can be tested in each roll.

After the roll is tied up it is then placed in a bucket of water, where it is allowed to remain from two to eighteen hours, as the operator may prefer. The water is then poured off, the roll placed on a couple of small pieces of wood to keep it from touching the floor, and a damp gunnysack placed over it to keep it from drying out. The bucket is then turned upside down over the roll, one edge of the roll being raised half an inch to give ventilation.

It is important that the corn should be thoroughly moist, but not so wet that seed will smother. Care should also be taken that the corn is not chilled. The best results will be obtained if it is kept in a temperature of about 70 degrees. At the end of four or five days the kernels should begin to sprout. The "rag baby" is then opened up again, the kernels are examined carefully and the boy or the boy's father can see at a glance which of the ears are good seed and which should be thrown away.

This is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children, and have abundant reason for it, as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases that so often follow. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

LANDLORD'S REMARKS JARRIED THE NEW YORKER

A travelling salesman blew into Little Rock, Ark., and, going to the leading merchant, said pompously: "I'm from New York. I want to show you the newest line of—"

"Where did you say you were from?" asked the merchant, getting ready to do some "kidding." The swell-headed manner of the New Yorker had ruffled him. The salesman seemed to think the fact that he was from New York was something to make rural merchants' jaws drop open. He was what Western people call a "New York fool"—the one kind that's hopeless. "Why, I'm from New York," repeated the gingery, swell-up geek. "Who runs the hotel in that town?" asked the merchant in a friendly manner. — [Philadelphia Telegraph.]

THINGS WHICH CAUSE DIVORCE

In the General Matrimonial Average.

KANSAS "PROCTOR" ANALYZES

The Causes for Infelicity Which Prevail Between Husband and Wife.

PROCTOR REASONS WITH THEM

W. W. Wright, who holds the curious office of "Divorce Proctor" in the State Government of Kansas, has analyzed more than 1,000 divorces granted in the Circuit Court in 1912, and has made the subjoined interesting recapitulation of the conclusions:

Things that cause divorces:

Immorality.
Drunkenness.
Desertion.
Flirting.
Economic conditions.
Premature marriage.
Lawyers.
Childless homes.
Lack of experience in domestic relations.

Lack of practical education.
Poor cooking and housekeeping.
Motor cars.
Boarding houses, hotels, rooming houses and light housekeeping.
Suffragettes of the undesirable type.

Lack of sympathy.
Nagging.
Gossip.
Tax marriage laws.

Things that make a happy home:

Man a good producer.
Wife a good housekeeper.
Practical college and high school education.

Appreciation of virtues and a broad mind.

Husband and wife of same religious faith.
Children.

Co-operation and encouragement.
Proper domestic training by mothers.

Family pride.
Refinement and education.

Care in the selection of friends and associates.

Entertainment and social life.
Reasonableness.

A well-tempered tongue.

Women who make good wives:
Love home life and children.

Are healthy.
Understand domestic science and relations.

Have a high standard of morals and live up to it.

Think of something besides clothes and dress.

Are neat, refined and modest.

Are educated and can speak good English.

Are religious.

Have had experience with children and housekeeping.

Appreciate cleanliness.

Are over 21 years old.

Know value of money.

Men who make good husbands:

Are making good at something.

Can provide comfortably for more than two at the time of marriage.

Have at least respect for the religious beliefs of others.

Are healthy.

Don't drink intoxicating liquors.

Have ambition and a fair prospect of an independent business.

Are educated and moral gentlemen.

During the year 881 divorces were granted. In 1911 there were 1,234 divorces. The decrease of 343 is ascribed to the work of the Divorce Proctor in interpreting and reasoning with those who would "lightly and inconsiderately" sever the marriage relation. — [Philadelphia Ledger.]

A Spade Is a Spade.

There are two kinds of competition in our commercialism to-day—fair and unfair. The first is constructive and progressive, the last is destructive and an affront to the good judgment of a buyer.

It often occurs that a physician's advice is thwarted and a patient's progress retarded by an unthinking drug clerk who succeeds in substituting a preparation of questionable purity or ingredients for one of recognized and known value. It is, indeed, a serious offense and one which should be promptly rebuked by every intelligent person.

A conspicuous instance is the substitution of inferior emulsions of cod liver oil for the tried and proven medical worth of Scott's Emulsion, which physicians know contains a standard, superior grade of cod liver oil, and is not contaminated with alcohol or opiate of any sort. These substitutes are often compounded by unscrupulous process, in unsanitary places and exist only by the unfair brand of competition which trades on the popularity and proven value of a really meritorious article.

It is high time for the intelligence of buyers to assert itself and know when a spade is a spade.

A WINTER COAT

not only keeps cold out, but conserves body-warmth; body-fat serves the same purpose, it enables us to resist unsettled elements and serves as the great source of our body-heat. Greater body-warmth means richer blood, more fat, not obesity but fat which the body consumes for warmth, vitality, resistance-power—as a furnace consumes coal for heat—Scott's Emulsion does this.

A teaspoonful after each meal makes body-warmth—healthy, active blood—sharpens the appetite and makes all good food do good.

It drives out and keeps out colds by raising endurance-power and creating strength.

EDITORS.
FRANK L. FELIX, Pub. and Prop'r.

Entered at the Hartford post-office as mail matter of the second class.

Those dealing with the Balkan situation seem to have a hard time imitating Turkey.

When it comes to doing "what is done," comment on the efforts of the daily newspaper correspondents in fixing up a cabinet for President Wilson.

"Take the tariff off meat and sugar and place a tax on larders" promises to be the slogan of the special session of Congress soon to be. And it will be endorsed by the people everywhere.

It is said that in Washington Pujos is called Pew-ho. Glad to know it. Heretofore we have had to cough when we stumbled across the word in talking and explain that we had a bad cold. We can now just clear our throat and go ahead.

A defiant cry came forth from the Hull Moose meeting which was held in Louisville last week, that there would be no compromise with any other political party, meaning, of course, the Republicans. A full Moose ticket will be put in the field in every county in the State, it is said.

Out in Utah it has long been the custom to allow convicted criminals to choose between hanging and shooting as the means of their legal execution, and now a bill has been introduced in the Legislature to allow them to commit suicide if they so desire. As a choice of mode along this line, perhaps some of them will elect to acquire a fatal form of gout.

Few men have ever been placed in the critical and watchful position now occupied by President-elect Wilson. His every action is watched and his every utterance is at once wired to the daily press. Under these circumstances he must be very careful of what he says and does. He has adopted the wise plan of saying nothing of special importance except when he is especially guarded in his utterances. So far he has made no "break," and indications are that his whole official career will be one devoid of any just criticism.

The Winchester Sun recounts a remarkable story told by one of its citizens. While walking about on his farm on Christmas Eve this citizen claims to have seen 100 squirrels of all colors and sizes on one limb of a tree. The story has a familiar tinge to it, although a little late in getting into print. Remember it happened on Christmas Eve! Sometimes the vision takes the form of pink-eyed bats and long-tailed bullfrogs, and the Winchester gentleman is entitled to credit for the pleasant novelty he introduced into the scheme.

Who is able to buy and pay cash for a tobacco pool of anywhere between two and twenty-five million pounds? Not any private individual, surely; in fact, nobody but the Tobacco Trust. Who and what is the Tobacco Trust? It is a combination of millionaire tobacco buyers, operating in a supposedly individual capacity but with curious unanimity of purpose and price. Must they be allowed to set the price which farmers shall obtain for their tobacco? That depends to a great extent on whether farmers stand together in opposition to this plan.

The following enticement (?) bait is thrown to the Republicans of Ohio county by the local Hull Moose organ:

We are in favor of local self government. Hence in the matter of fusion in the selection of county officials, each county organization should be permitted to do as they see fit under the circumstances.

This is simply an adroit plea for control of the county offices. If PRINCIPLE means anything at all, it means as much in local affairs as it does anywhere else. It has always been the cry of Roosevelt and his close followers that theirs is a battle for certain principles of government, and he and they have further said that there could be no compromise or fusion with the Republicans along this line. Editor Watterson was about right when he said the Hull Moose propaganda is simply an "organized appetite" for political office.

DEFIANT NOTE IN MOOSE CRY

No Compromise With the Republicans.

A FULL PROGRESSIVE TICKET

Is To Be Nominated This Year in Every County In the State.

NO FAVORS ASKED NOR GIVEN

The following is from the Louisville Herald, the State organ of the Bull Moose party:

Success without qualification crowned the State conference of Progressives in Louisville. More than 300 men and women from all parts of Kentucky showed their fighting spirit and their faith in the cause of good government at two sessions.

They went on record at open meeting, afternoon and night, as being against fusion with any other organization. The only resolution passed by the State Executive Committee, in closed session, expressed the sense of the body as being against a compromise of body or principles with any other party than the Progressive.

Both sessions were electrified with the spirit of enthusiasm. Speeches that thrilled as political half a dozen men. All but two of speeches rarely thrill, were made by these addresses were extemporaneous. They came from the heart and they went to the hearts of men and women who have pledged themselves to do their utmost to replace government by the mass of people.

Not a single speaker voiced a plan for office getting. They dwelt upon things much bigger. State Chairman William S. Lawhill gave most of his speech to the subject of good legislation. S. Duncan-Clark pleaded for education. "Teach the people how to get what they want," was his cry.

George T. Ragsdale, president of the Progressive club of Louisville and Kentucky, preached the Philosophy of Progressivism. These are only examples of the kinds of things the audiences heard. Even the opposition newspaper men who came to ridicule remained to admire and learn and get food for thought.

The afternoon session which was called to order at 1 o'clock, was presided over by Mr. Lawhill until 4:30 o'clock. At that time the Executive Committee went into closed session. Former Republican Mayor James F. Grinstead took the chair. The conference was adjourned until 8 o'clock. Mr. Grinstead presided at the night session.

The entire list of speakers was composed of W. S. Lawhill, S. J. Duncan-Clark, Maurice F. Gordon, Judge William Krieger, John D. White, George T. Ragsdale and J. W. Dinsmore.

The Executive Committee was in session from 4:30 to 7 o'clock and from 8:15 to 11 o'clock. The most important work done was the adoption of the following resolution:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of the Progressive State Executive Committee that any fusion or combination of the Progressive party with any other party at the election in 1913 will be detrimental to the best interest of the party and it advises all subordinate committees of the party to keep the Progressive party out of all such entanglements, and to take steps to nominate a full Progressive ticket in every county in the State."

car just as a gentleman whom she thought she recognized as the parent of a pupil in her school got on. "Good morning," she said, with a cheery smile.

Instantly she saw, by the quizzical expression on the face of the man addressed, that she had made a mistake. Intending to correct it, she added quickly:

"Oh, pardon me! I thought you were the father of one of my children."

PROGRESS OF Y. M. C. A.— GREAT GROWTH SHOWN

During the past year there were 125,000 men and boys in Bible classes of the Y. M. C. A. and the attendance at all religious services was 5,818,718. The Association is working among the men of the packing houses, foundries, shops and factories; among boys working in mines, cotton mills, stores and in messenger service; among students in college and 600,000 High School boys; among the million railroad men; among soldiers and sailors; among lumbermen, the country boys, the immigrants as they sail, land and reach a thousand points; among construction gangs pioneering railroads and building bridges; among colored men and the Indians; among the men of the great teaming cities of the far East, as well as in North and South America. VERY CONFUSING MIX-UP BY A MAN'S MARRIAGE

Columbus, O., Feb. 1.—Harry Thornton Grady, 19 years old, secured a license to-day to marry Freda Kredel, 16 years old.

It developed in recording the circumstance that Miss Kredel, the bride, is the sister of the stepmother of the bridegroom.

From this statement of facts Edward F. Morris, marriage license clerk, discovered that inasmuch as Grady had married his mother's sister, his mother would be his sister-in-law and his father his brother-in-law; that he would be his brother's uncle and his sister would be his niece.

"PATENT" MEDICINES FILL AN ECONOMIC NEED

The idea that people should be practically deprived of the right to buy the medicines they need, without first hunting up a doctor, and paying him for permission to do so, could only prevail among those ignorant of existing conditions or whose judgment is warped by interest or prejudice. Civilization will as soon go back to plowing corn in a mortar as it did to the days of the old apothecary shop. Improved methods, the great growth of population with a correspondingly increased demand, have resulted in improved methods of manufacture and distribution, and "patent" medicines represent the most improved method of manufacturing and distributing medical necessities. To try to block progress in this line is on a par with attempts to block any other development which follows out economic laws.—[National Labor Bulletin.]

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has called home the spirit of brother Lucien Ambrose, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of brother Ambrose, Hoell Local Union A. S. of E. has lost a true and valued member and we realize that while brother Ambrose was modest and unassuming in manner, he was steadfast in principle and while he had been in ill health a long time, he bore his sufferings with Christian fortitude. We recognize the fact that the community has lost a good citizen and a kind and accommodating neighbor.

Resolved, that as a token of our respect, a copy of these resolutions be spread on the pages of our record, a copy be presented to his family and one furnished each of the county papers for publication.

Good News.

We are always glad to hear of the success of young people. It is said that Bowling Green Business University has put more students in positions this season than in any other similar period before, and is forced to turn down good offers every week because it cannot educate office-help fast enough to supply the demands. This is good news for boys and girls struggling to acquire a business education. Now is the time to get ready to enter business life.—[Adv.]

HOW AN INDIANA GIRL

Got Strong and Well Again at Small Cost.

Miss Alta Abel, of West Baden, Ind., says: "I was a complete wreck, always tired, worn out and nervous. I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed and my life was not worth living. Vinol, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic, was recommended, and it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person."

Vinol is the most efficient strength-giver for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers confined in Vinol, aided by the blood-making and strengthening properties of tonic iron, which makes it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ill-natured women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.

We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim.

THE EFFECTIVE PLANS OF Y. M. C. A. WORK

An Interesting Incident of How Father Found His Son
In Good Hands.

Mr. J. H. Power, a prominent attorney of Flemingsburg, was surprised when a letter from the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Nashville came to him a few days ago, requesting that he look after his son, H. C. Power. The story runs thus: H. C. Power had been rooming in the Nashville Y. M. C. A. building, and when he told the secretary that he was going to Flemingsburg, he didn't mention the fact that it was his home. The secretary, following the Y. M. C. A. custom, sat down and wrote a letter to the pastor of the Baptist Church in Flemingsburg, asking that he meet Mr. Power and introduce him to the best Christian influences while there. There being no resident pastor of this church there, the letter was delivered to the elder Power, who is a deacon in the Baptist Church. He was surprised and Mr. Power writes this letter to that it was about his own boy. He thought it a great system that could follow his boy away from home and then follow him back. His son is leaving for Phoenix, Ariz., and Mr. Power writes this letter to the Y. M. C. A. secretary:

"I want to thank you for the attention you are giving my boy and the effort you are making to have the pastor of our church take some cognizance of him. I want to ask you to kindly write to the pastor of the First Baptist Church at Phoenix, Ariz., and call his attention to the fact that my boy has recently moved into that town, and ask him to become acquainted with him and take some supervision of him."

"For a number of years past it has been my pleasure and my privilege to contribute to the Y. M. C. A. fund of Kentucky in an humble way. I have been doing this for the benefit of other people's boys. At that time I never thought of my boy being so far from home, and I never thought of the fact that this splendid Association would be in a position to look after his interests. This matter has come home closely to me, and I want to say to you that I fully appreciate what you are doing, not only for my own son, but for thousands of other boys who have been compelled to leave the environments of home and home influence."

"Thanking you again for the effort you are making to look after the interests of my boy and all other boys, I am, very truly yours," (Signed) J. H. POWERS.

This is a unique incident of the of the State Y. M. C. A. which follows up thousands of young men away from home.

When Burton Holmes recently gave his celebrated travelogue on "Panama" at Orchestra Hall, Chicago, he was seriously interrupted by continual coughing of the audience. Many a good sermon, lecture or concert, is spoiled in the same way. No one annoys a villager and if people with coughs, colds, hoarseness and tickling in throat would use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, they could quickly cure their coughs and colds and avoid this annoyance. It is a splendid household medicine and contains no opiates. For sale by all dealers.

CLOSE RESEMBLANCE TO BANDIT JESSE JAMES.

Dr. Tom Hunt, of Scottsville, is in the city to place his three children in school. Dr. Hunt is a unique character with a very interesting history. He was an intimate friend of Jesse James, and five times was mistaken for the desperado, so similar in countenance and build were the two men. Many years ago when a stage to Mammoth Cave was held up and robbed Dr. Hunt was arrested for the crime and held in jail.

Conviction seemed almost assured. About this time Jesse James was killed by Bob Ford at St. Jo, Mo., and on his person at the time was found a watch belonging to a passenger on the stage. Dr. Hunt was then easily acquitted.—[Howling Green Times-Journal.]

WALKED BACKWARD 30 MILES—QUEER RACES

One of the most difficult walking feats on record was accomplished in 1826, when a well known pedestrian named Lloyd undertook for a bet to walk 30 miles backward in nine hours. This he succeeded in doing with 14 minutes to spare, on the road between Bagshot and Portsmouth.

A still more eccentric wager was made by Horace Walpole's brother, Lord Oxford, who backed a drove of geese to race an equal number of turkeys from Norwich to London. He won the bet, for the geese kept to the road all the time. The turkeys, when darkness came on, flew to roost in the trees, from which their drivers had a hard task to dislodge them. The turkeys were two days behind the geese.—[London Chronicle.]

SHE GOT THE GARTERS— BIT OF WESTERN CHEER

Ripon, Wis., Jan. 30.—A young lady living not very far from here, on a little shopping trip in town yesterday, dropped into the J. E. Brown clothing store and said to Mike Itallahan, the genial head clerk of the establishment:

"It is my desire to obtain a pair of circular elastic appendages capable of being contracted or expanded by means of oscillating burnished steel appliances that sparkle like particles of gold leaf set with Alaska diamonds, and which are utilized for keeping in position the habiliments of the extremities which innate delicacy forbids me to mention."

Mike had just time enough to hand out a pair of garters and then faint.

SHOWER BATH IN INDIA —FROM UNSEEN SOURCE

Ideal bathrooms are seldom found in India, as a lady traveling with her husband discovered when they arrived at an out-of-the-way place one evening. Their host pointed out their rooms, and indicating a small room on the side said: "The shower bath is in there." Later the lady went into the so-called bathroom, disrobed, and seeing nothing but a tin tub and a mug, began to hunt for the source of the shower bath. Suddenly she heard a man's voice, seemingly in the ceiling, say: "If memsahib coming more to this side, I throw water more better."—[Everybody's Magazine.]

SPLENDID WORK OF THE NEW HOME FOR ORPHANS

Located At Hopkinsville—Is Accomplishing Much For Little Children.

The West Kentucky Orphans' Home, located at Hopkinsville, is now one year old, and a more successful and remarkable record has perhaps never been established by any similar institution.

About fifty children, many of whom would have remained in neglect and wretchedness and finally gone to ruin, have been placed in good homes.

From low and humble stations children have been taken, hungry, ragged and begrimed with filth, and from this source jewels of great potential value have been obtained.

The record established during these months compares favorably with any institution in the State, however strong financially it may be. And the small amount on which its work has been accomplished makes it a veritable marvel. Certainly the misuse of funds cannot be charged up on its management.

No salaried officials are connected with the home. Its management has given time and labor without the expectation of remuneration, and will continue to do so as long as may be necessary. Supt. Humphrey and his noble wife have earned and deserve the regard and confidence of everybody who knows of their splendid and unselfish work.

The executive committee of the Home is composed of G. H. Champ-llin, Mrs. M. H. Taady, Mrs. W. D. Cooper, H. L. Harton and Odle Davis.

Following is the board of directors: W. P. Scott, Dawson; D. W. Gatlin, Madisonville; F. G. Wood, Princeton; B. F. Billington, Wickliffe; Noah Hodkin, Bardwell; W. A. Naylor, Hickman; J. B. Hay, Murray; Dr. V. N. Stille, Benton; G. H. Ramsey, Sebree; W. K. Hall, Fulton; Dr. J. A. Palmer, Pembroke; N. L. Turner, Guthrie; G. W. Richardson, Russellville; J. K. Twyman, Hopkinsville; O. H. Malorie, Cadiz. The merit of the institution cannot be overstated, and is in many respects without a parallel in the history of the State. It only remains for our good people to continue to stand by it and aid its beneficent work. It is growing steadily and is destined to win general recognition and favor.—[From Kentucky New Era, December 23, 1912.]
